Why did you choose the BRCGS Standard?

The BRCGS certification is a globally recognised standard for food safety, which is important for our business, the services we provide and the products that we pack.

By having this grade, we are giving our customers assurance that we're operating to the highest standard. It also reassures our customers that we take food safety and compliance extremely seriously when it comes to the service delivery of food products for our customers.

Presenting our AA+ achievement in the industry to our customers gives us an excellent opportunity to demonstrate our organisation's professionalism and pride in our industry.

What are the benefits being BRCGS certificated?

The BRCGS certification is widely used across the manufacturing industry and we are proud to have received this recognition.

This certification upholds our reputation as a leading packaging provider, not only in Australia but internationally. The certification also gives us access to industry updates, customer directories and market trends.
